If a voter has not indicated the election number of a candidate in the ballot paper, indicated a non-existing election number of a candidate or when it is impossible to define a voter's will from the inscription or inscriptions regarding the preference votes, a preference vote or votes in the special box (boxes) of the second part of this ballot paper shall not be counted. If the election number of the same candidate is put down more than once on the ballot paper, only one vote shall be counted for this candidate according to this ballot paper.

CHAPTER ELEVEN

ESTABLISHMENT AND PROCLAMATION OF ELECTION RESULTS

Article 83. Establishment of Election Results in the Multi-Member Constituency

1. The preliminary election results shall be established by the municipal electoral committee after the vote counting record of the constituency has been signed.
2. Mandates for lists of candidates shall be distributed according to the number of mandate votes cast by the voters, which have been received by each list, applying the method of largest remainder. A list of candidates may get mandates of municipal councillor (participate in the distribution of mandates) only if not less than four per cent of the voters who participated in the elections voted in favour of it, and the joint list of candidates of the parties or the equivalent list of candidates, as laid down in Article 41(3) of this Law, may get mandates of municipal councillor (participate in the distribution of mandates) if not less than six per cent of the voters who participated in the elections voted in favour of them. If less than 60 per cent of the votes were cast for the lists of candidates participating in the distribution of mandates, the right to participate in the distribution of mandates shall be acquired by that list of candidates (or the lists if an equal number of the votes were cast in favour of them) which so far has not participated in the distribution of mandates and in favour of which the highest number of votes was cast. 4. The number of the votes cast for each list of candidates participating in the distribution of mandates shall be divided by the quota of the distribution of mandates. The received integer quotient shall be the number of mandates for each list according to the quota of the mandate distribution, and the remainders of this division shall be used to distribute the remaining mandates according to the remainders. Therefore, the names of all lists of candidates shall be written down in succession in which the last is followed by the first according to the remainders of the division received by lists, beginning with the largest. If two lists of candidates have an equal number of remainders, the first written down shall be the list which possesses a smaller election number. The mandates, left undistributed during the distribution by the method of quotas, shall be distributed by one to the lists of candidates according to the succession, beginning with the list of candidates which was written down first.

5. If one of the lists of candidates receives more mandates than there are candidates on the list, these mandates shall be distributed to other lists by further applying the method of remainders to the distribution of mandates.

6. Candidates for municipal councillor of the same list shall receive mandates in accordance with the post-electoral order of precedence of the lists of candidates. The candidate which received mandate in a single-member constituency shall be passed over in the order of succession of the list of candidates of the multi-member constituency.

Article 84. Establishment of Election Results in a Single-Member Constituency

1. The preliminary election results shall be established by the municipal electoral committee after the vote counting record of a single-member constituency has been signed.

2. A candidate shall be considered elected for municipal councillor and mayor in a single-member constituency, if during the first voting in which he has received more than half of the votes of all the voters participating in the elections not less than 40 percent of the voters from the electoral roll of that constituency have participated in the elections. If less than 40 percent of the voters from the electoral roll of that constituency have participated in the elections, the candidate who has received the majority, but not less than one-fifth of the votes of all the voters from the electoral roll of that constituency, shall be considered to have been elected. If during the first voting round none of the candidates for mayor gets the required majority vote, not later than after two weeks from the polling day a runoff voting shall be conducted according to the procedure established by this Law between the two candidates for mayor who have received the most votes in the first voting round. A date of runoff voting shall be announced by the Central Electoral Commission together with the final results of the first poll. The candidate to the office of mayor who gets more votes during the runoff voting shall be considered elected.

Article 85. Establishment and Proclamation of Final Election Results

1. Upon the examination of all complaints and the establishment of all election results in a particular constituency, the Central Electoral Commission shall approve the final election results not later than within seven days after the elections and shall proclaim the final election results on its website. The Central Electoral Commission shall, without deliberation, approve decisions of those municipal electoral committees with regard to which no complaints about the violation of this Law that had an essential effect on the election results have been received from the election representatives within three days after the elections. Following the approval by the Central Electoral Commission of the municipal electoral committee's decision on the approval of the final election results, the municipal electoral committee concerned shall proclaim the results of the municipal council elections no later than within two days after the approval of the decision.

2. If the Central Electoral Commission modifies the decision of the municipal electoral committee or takes a decision regarding the seat of a bygone municipal councillor, the election results shall be proclaimed by the Central Electoral Commission. The Central Electoral Commission shall start issuing municipal councillor certificates not earlier than seven days and finish issuing them not later than ten days after the proclamation of the election results or a relevant decision.

3. The Central Electoral Commission shall, not later than within three months from the proclamation of the final election results, publish a book about the election results and, within four months, transfer for unlimited preservation the vote counting records of the polling districts and the constituencies, the application documents, the minutes of the meetings and the decisions

Article 86. Declaration of the Election Invalid

1. If a party or an election committee or a candidate grossly violated Article 6(1) of this Law and such a violation was established or committed later than provided for in Article 37(9), the Central Electoral Commission shall adopt a decision regarding the revocation of the announcement of the list of candidates or repeal the candidate registration after the polling day. After the revocation of the announcement of the list of candidates, the votes cast for the list of candidates, and, after the repeal of the candidate registration, the preference votes cast for the candidate or votes cast for the candidate for municipal councillor and mayor shall be deemed invalid. After the votes are deemed invalid, it may be decided to declare the election invalid in accordance with the procedure provided for in this Article.

2. The Central Electoral Commission may declare the election results in a constituency invalid if it establishes that the violations of the provisions of Article 6(1) of this Law or other gross violations of this Law committed in the polling district or the constituency, or the falsification of the documents or the loss thereof have had an essential effect on the election results, or that the following essential results cannot be determined from the vote counting records or other election documents:

- 1) in a single-member constituency - the candidate who gets a mandate;
- 2) in the multi-member constituency - the list of candidates which take part in the distribution of mandates, or the number of mandates due to the list of candidates can be determined at the exactness of only more than one mandate.

3. The elections may not be declared invalid if the indisputably determined election results allow determining the essential election results.

The Central Electoral Commission shall also take a decision concerning the extension of the powers of a municipal electoral committee to hold rerun elections, the change of the composition of this committee or the setting-up of a new committee. Further on, rerun elections shall be held in accordance with the procedure established by this Law. Election deposits for the lists of candidates, the candidates nominated for municipal councillor and mayor, who registered to participate in the last elections in this municipality, shall be counted.

12) by the decision of the municipal council in accordance with the procedure set by the Law of the Republic of Lithuania on Local Self-Government (hereinafter: 'the Law on Local Self-Government');

13) if he is elected member of the Seimas of the Republic of Lithuania.

2. A municipal councillor, before taking up the office which, under the Constitution, this Law and other laws, is incompatible with the office of municipal councillor (with the exception of the cases where he is elected member of the Seimas of the Republic of Lithuania) shall, at least ten days in advance, personally submit to the municipal mayor and the Central Electoral Commission a written statement (statements) concerning the renouncement of the mandate of municipal councillor or mail such statement, upon having it notarised. A person who loses the mandate of municipal councillor on the grounds specified in Points 1, 3, 4, 5, 7, 8, 9 and 10 of paragraph 1 of this Article and Article 25¹ of the Law on Local Self-Government shall lose the right to fill the vacant seat of municipal councillor in accordance with the procedure laid down by Article 89 of this Law.

3. The Central Electoral Commission shall, within 15 days from the occurrence of the grounds referred to in paragraph 1 of this Article, recognise the powers of a municipal councillor as discontinued before the expiration of his term of office.

Article 89. Filling a Vacant Seat of Municipal Councillor

1. If the powers of a municipal councillor discontinue before the expiration of his term of office on the grounds specified in Article 88(1) of this Law or a municipal councillor loses his mandate, a vacancy occurs in the council for the position of municipal councillor. A vacant seat of the municipal councillor in the multi-member constituency shall be filled according to the following order: the top candidate, who did not receive the mandate of a municipal councillor, on the post-electoral list of candidates according to which the former municipal councillor had been elected, shall become a municipal councillor. If on this list of candidates there are no candidates who could take a vacant seat of municipal councillor, councillor's mandate shall be transferred to another list according to the order of succession of the lists of candidates made after the elections for the distribution of mandates by the method of remainders, i.e., that list which comes first following the list which was the last to receive its mandate according to this order of succession, and the first candidate, not having received his mandate who appears on the list with the newly-received mandate shall become a municipal councillor.

2. By-elections shall be held for a vacant seat of municipal councillor in a single-member constituency. By-elections must be held not later than within six months. By-elections shall not be held if the election date planned to be announced falls within the period when less than a year remains before the date of the next elections to municipal councils, as counted in compliance with the Constitution. The Central Electoral Commission shall establish the concrete procedure for holding by-elections according to the requirements and terms established by this Law, taking into consideration the fact that by-elections are held in one of the single-member constituencies.

3. When the circumstances which constituted the grounds for recognising the powers of a municipal councillor as discontinued before the expiration of his term of office under Points 2 and 6 of Article 88(1) of this Law cease to exist, or when the circumstances due to which the elected municipal councillor has lost the mandate of municipal councillor under Article 91 of this Law cease to exist, for the time period between elections the said person shall enjoy the right of precedence to fill an occurring vacant seat of municipal councillor on the post-electoral list of candidates. In this case, the person must within 15 days submit to the Central Electoral Commission a notarised request to recognise the position on the post-electoral list of candidates who have not received the mandate of municipal councillor. It shall be permitted to recognise only once a position of such a person on the post-electoral list of candidates who have not received the mandate of municipal councillor. The Central Electoral Commission must take a decision concerning the recognition of the mandate of municipal councillor for a new municipal councillor not later than within seven days after the occurrence of a vacant seat of municipal councillor.

4. If a person who should receive the mandate of municipal councillor in accordance with paragraph 1 of this Article fails to meet the requirements laid down in Article 2 of this Law or would fail to meet the said requirements upon his becoming a municipal councillor, the Central Electoral Commission shall immediately take a decision pursuant to Article 88 of this Law, and this person shall be struck off the order of precedence in the list of candidates.

Article 90. Loss of the Mandate of municipal Councillor because of Failure to Disclose to Voters the Previous Conviction Imposed by the Court Judgment (Decision)

If a person who is nominated as a candidate or who declares himself a candidate fails to meet the requirements laid down in Article 36(12) of this Law (does not provide in the questionnaire of the candidate the information specified in Article 36(12) of this Law or provides the incorrect data), and this becomes clear after the elections during which this person was elected a municipal councillor or municipal councillor and mayor:

- 1) the person who has not taken the oath of municipal councillor loses the mandate of municipal councillor;
- 2) the person who has taken the oath of municipal councillor loses the powers of a municipal councillor.

Article 91. Office Incompatible with the Office of Municipal Councillor, and the Loss of the Mandate of municipal Councillor

1. The office of municipal councillor shall be incompatible with the office of President of the Republic, Seimas member, European Parliament member, Government member, head of a government agency or an agency under a ministry, whose work is related to the supervision and control of activities of municipalities, Government representative in the county, Auditor General and his deputies. Moreover, the office of councillor of a municipality shall be incompatible with the post of a civil servant of political (personal) confidence of the mayor of that municipality of a particular term of office, the office of controller of that municipality or the post of a civil servant of the controller's service of that municipality, the office of director of the administration of that municipality of a particular term of office and his deputy or the post of a civil servant or an employee working under the employment contract in the administration of that municipality, the office of head of the secretariat of the council or the post of a civil servant or an employee working under the employment contract of that municipality, the office of head of a budgetary institution the owner or one of the owners is that municipality, the office of single-person head and member of the collegial management body of a public establishment the owner or stakeholder of which is that municipality, an undertaking of that municipality, the office of member of the collegial management body (board) of a company controlled by that municipality or the office of head of a company controlled by that municipality.

2. If a person holding the office incompatible with the office of municipal councillor under the Constitution, this Law or other laws is elected as a municipal councillor, he must decide and relinquish the above mentioned duties or renounce the mandate of an elected municipal councillor. An elected municipal councillor who decides to renounce the mandate of municipal councillor shall, no later than 10 days before the first meeting of a municipal council, submit to the Central Electoral Commission personally or by mail a notarised statement concerning the renouncement of the mandate of an elected municipal councillor. Upon the receipt of this statement, the Central Electoral Commission, in the capacity of the mandates commission, shall, no later than seven days before the first meeting of a municipal council, take a decision regarding the loss of the mandate of an elected municipal councillor and the recognition of the mandate for a new municipal councillor. Candidates of the post-electoral list of candidates for a vacant seat of municipal councillor, who decide to renounce the mandate of an elected municipal councillor, must also submit to the Central Electoral Commission the statements concerning the renouncement of the mandate of municipal councillor no later than seven days before the first meeting of a municipal council. If an elected municipal councillor fails to notify the Central Electoral Commission no later than 10 days before the first meeting of a municipal council that he relinquishes the duties incompatible with the office of municipal councillor, the Central Electoral Commission, in the capacity of the mandates commission, shall, no later than seven days before the first meeting of a municipal council, take a decision on the loss of the mandate of this municipal councillor.

3. The provision of paragraph 2 of this Article regarding the obligation of elected municipal councillor to decide and relinquish either the duties incompatible with the mandate of municipal councillor or the mandate of an elected municipal councillor no later than 10 days before the first meeting of a municipal council shall not apply to persons whose powers shall terminate upon termination of the powers of a municipal councillor and mayor: director of the administration of that municipality, deputy director of the administration of that municipality, civil servants of political (personal) confidence of the mayor and the secretary of the council of that municipality.

I promulgate this Law passed by the Seimas of the Republic of Lithuania.
