4) Each voting bloc shall receive as many residual mandates as the number of times the electoral number is contained in its residual number of votes. If, according to this calculation, two groups of voters have an identical claim to a residual mandate, the voting bloc candidate who is eligible under Art. 57 with the greater number of votes has the advantage. If the number of votes is equal, it shall be decided by lot.

Art. 57

c) criminal acts or

d) gross irregularities, provided that these facts have had or could have had a significant influence on the election result.

4) Should one or more intelligible voters participate as voters or should several voters be unlawfully excluded from participation in the election, the election remains valid if the difference in the number of votes does not influence the election result; should this be the case, the election is null and void.

5) The election complaint must be registered with the Government within three days after the election. The election day itself does not count in the calculation of the deadline. In the event of any other exclusion, the complaint must be submitted to the Government within a further five days and shall include specific requests and indicate the facts on which the complaint is based, together with the facts which are to serve as evidence. The Government must allow any voting bloc who has submitted an election complaint access to the election records in a timely manner.

The adopted part shall be published after the sanction has been obtained from the sovereign, and reported concurrently to the Landtag by the Government.

3) Prior to the signing and countersigning, the Government must add the following to every legislative or Constitutional resolution adopted by referendum to be published in the State Law Gazette:

Section III

Initiative

a) Legislative Initiative

Art. 80

Application

1) The right of the initiative, insofar as it relates to legislation, includes the request to adopt, amend, or repeal a law.

2) Such requests may be submitted by eligible voters or municipalities in the form of a simple proposal (simple initiative) or a draft (formulated initiative) and may be justified in both cases (Art. 64 Para.3 and Art. 66 Para. 6 of the Constitution).

3) A referendum (municipality or collective initiative) from which the country accrues either a one-time new outlay of at least 500,000 francs or a recurring outlay of 250,000 francs per annum, must be accompanied by a proposal for providing the necessary funds if it must be considered by the Landtag, unless it concerns a law already provided for in the Constitution.¹⁰⁸

- 4) If the right of the initiative is exercised,
- a) the government shall examine the collective or municipality request for a referendum and authorise it for publication (Art. 70); previously collected signatures or municipal resolutions shall be excluded;
 - b) the Government shall forward the submission in which the object of the request must be designated and supported by a minimum of 1,000 eligible voters or by at least three municipalities in the form of concordant municipal assembly resolution (municipality initiative), within the time limit of six weeks as laid down in Art. 70 lit. b.¹⁰⁹

Opinion of the Landtag

1) The Landtag shall consider an initiative request in their next meeting following the submission, without delay.

2) Should a request be submitted in the form of a simple proposal, the Landtag must declare whether or not it agrees with the request.

3) In the case of consent, the Landtag shall handle the initiative by adopting, repealing, or amending a law (the Constitution) subject to the referendum and the consent of the sovereign.

4) Should the Landtag reject a simple proposal it shall be terminated, so far as it does not itself concern a referendum on simple proposals; should this be the case and the absolute majority of eligible voters pronounce themselves for the peoples' proposal or that Landtag's proposal, the Landtag must prepare the accepted proposal in the sense of the referendum results. As a rule, the resolution in question shall be subject to the optional referendum.

Art. 82

Formulated Initiatives

1) If the initiative request has been submitted in the form of a draft, the Landtag shall decide without delay whether or not to approve the draft initiative, which, if necessary, must be accompanied by a proposal for providing the necessary funds.

2) Should the Landtag reject the draft, it shall instruct the Government to order a referendum.

3) In this case, the Landtag is authorised to make its own motions regarding the initiative submitted by the initiators or municipalities, either to reject the proposal or submit a modified version itself and, if necessary, to justify its actions in a message addressed to the people.

Art. 82a¹¹⁰*Simultaneous Occurrence of Several Initiatives on the same Subject*

1) Should more than one initiative request be submitted at the same time on the same subject matter, the Landtag shall consider them all in the same session.

2) Several initiatives on the same subject matter shall be deemed to have taken place simultaneously if the others have already been registered with the Government at the time of publication of the first request.

3) The procedure shall be governed by Art. 81 and 82.

Art. 82b¹¹¹*Withdrawal of Initiatives*

1) Should initiatives contain a withdrawal clause, they may be withdrawn by unanimous decision of all members of the Initiative Committee.

2) The withdrawal of an initiative is permissible until the Government has set the vote date. If an initiative is in the form of a simple proposal and the Landtag approves it, a withdrawal is permissible up to the approval resolution of the Landtag.

Art. 83

Questioning

1) Should only one proposal be put to vote, the ballot shall contain the question: "Do you wish to accept the draft?"

2) Should, in addition to the proposed initiative, a counter-proposal of the Landtag be submitted to a referendum, two questions shall be presented to the voters: "Do you wish to accept the draft of the initiative? or Do you wish to accept the counter-proposal of the Landtag?"

3) Should two or more initiative proposals be submitted for a referendum on the same subject matter, the eligible voters shall be presented with the following questions on the same ballot card: "Do you want to accept draft '...'" and "Do you wish to accept draft '...'" etc. Decisive for the order of the proposals is the date on which they were submitted to the Government. Should the proposals not be clearly distinguishable, the question must be supplemented so that the content of the initiative is evident.¹¹²

4) Should a counter-proposal of the Landtag be submitted in addition to two or more initiative proposals on the same subject matter for referendum, the eligible voters will be presented the following questions on the same ballot: "Do you wish to accept draft '...'" and "Do you wish to accept draft '...'" etc. and "Do you wish to accept the counter-proposal of the Landtag?"¹¹³

5) If two or more proposals (Para. 2 to 4) are submitted for voting, the eligible voters shall also be asked the following additional question on the same ballot: "If you agree with more than one proposal, which proposal do you prefer?"¹¹⁴

6) In this case, the adoption of an initiative draft by the eligible voters shall represent the resolution of the Landtag (Art. 66, Para. 6 of the Constitution), which would otherwise be required for the adoption of a law.¹¹⁵

Determination of the Result of the Vote

1) Blank and invalid ballots shall not be taken into account when determining the absolute majority. In the case of votes on several proposals, this also applies to unanswered individual questions; the absolute majority shall be determined separately for each proposal.¹¹⁶

2) Should, in the case of votes on more than one proposal, more than one proposal reach absolute majority, the ballots with a multiple "Yes" shall be awarded only to the proposal which is cited as preferred in the additional question. The proposal which, by virtue of this second count, receives the majority of votes, shall be adopted.¹¹⁷

3) Ballots with multiple "Yes" which do not, or do not clearly, answer the additional question will not be taken into account in the event of a second count.¹¹⁸

4) In addition to the particulars required for votes in Art. 34, it is also necessary to include in the record the number of votes which the initiative draft or the individual initiatory drafts received, and how many have adopted the proposal of the Landtag.¹¹⁹

5) Should a second count including the additional question be necessary, this result shall also be recorded.¹²⁰

b) Constitutional Revision Initiatives

Art. 85

Admissibility and Procedures

1) A minimum of 1,500 voters or at least four municipalities in the form of concordant municipal assembly resolutions may submit a request for a revision of the Constitution (adoption, amendment, or repeal), in whole or in part (total or partial revision).¹²¹

2) The right to dismiss is only valid for the Landtag as a whole, not against individual members.

3) The provisions of this section apply mutatis mutandis to this petition for a referendum (submission, signature collection, versions of municipal assembly resolutions, order of referendums, etc.).

4) At time of voting, the eligible voters shall be asked: "Do you wish to have the Landtag dissolved?"

5) Should the absolute majority decide for the dissolution of the Landtag, the Government shall declare the Landtag as dissolved and order new elections immediately according to the Constitution.

6) The appointment of the National Committee (Art. 72 Para. 2 of the Constitution) remains reserved for the Landtag which is to be dissolved.
